

Comm. on Reciprocity

3 October 1962

MEMORANDUM FOR: Assistant to the Director - Mr. Elder

SUBJECT: Senator Henry M. Jackson

Although I mentioned these two items to the Director and he saw Senator Jackson shortly thereafter, you might raise again just to ascertain if he mentioned them to the Senator:

1. Senator Jackson, at my request, pitched in to have the Communications Reciprocity Act, H. R. 11732, reported out of the Senate Commerce Committee during the absence of its Chairman, Senator Magnuson. It was reported out favorably and passed by the Senate on 2 October.

2. Senator Jackson's two Subcommittee staff people, Dorothy Fosdick and Robert Tufts, met on Wednesday for an hour and a half for a briefing on interrelationships of CIA and other departments. Mr. Karamessines was present for part of the time and Mr. Critchfield conducted the principal briefing. Arrangements were made for them to meet with our Chiefs of Station Appropriate cables are being prepared. The briefing went extremely well and Fosdick and Tufts afterwards said that they had gotten the type of information they desired for background purposes and added that they were most impressed by the competence and knowledge of Mr. Critchfield.
